General Studies with a Human Services Specialization Degree Details

The Associate of Arts & Sciences Degree Program in General Studies: Human Services Specialization allows students the flexibility of moving into transfer programs in psychology, social work, human services, sociology, and other academic fields of helping professionals.

Occupational titles, depending on educational achievement, of human service workers may include:

- Case Worker
- Case Management Aide
- Eligibility Counselor
- Social Services Aide
- Probation Officer
- Mental Health Counselor
- Crisis Intervention Manager

Human Services professionals and paraprofessionals work to provide people the assistance needed to stabilize their lives and find self-sufficiency and independence through assessment, guidance, counselling, and/or treatment options.

The associate of arts and sciences (AA&S) and associate of science (AS) degrees offered by LFCC are designed to provide freshman and sophomore level course work toward the completion of a bachelor's degree.

To help facilitate the transfer process, LFCC has created an online Transfer Guide that provides detailed information that may be useful in the transfer process. The Transfer Guide can found at lfcc.edu/transfer.

1 List of approved electives can be found on page 41 of the college catalog.

2 Student should check with the institution to which they will be transferring to determine the most appropriate history course(s) to take at LFCC. For students intending to take more than one history course, a sequence beginning by taking HIS 101, 111, or 121 is preferred prior to 102, 112, or 122.

3 Students interested in pursuing a Bachelor of Science degree in human service areas like psychology, social work, and counseling must complete a statistics course (MTH 240) for transfer.

3 A one-year sequence of biology, chemistry, physics, or geology is recommended. However, depending on the requirements of four-year institutions, a two-semester sequence may be substituted with advisor approval. For Social Work transfer students, BIO 101 is recommended as one of the required lab courses.

4 Recommended that students take SOC 200 and PSY 200.

5 Recommended that students choose from the following electives: HIS 141, 101, 105, 107, 140, 211, 215, 225, 266, 268, 275, PSY 215, 230. Students are advised to meet with an academic or faculty advisor for optimum course selection for desired major or transfer institution. For Social Work transfer students, SOC 200 is recommended as one of the required lab courses.
